

Wanted: Lips

Also known as: Latin: Labia Oris, Spanish: Labios, Italian: Labbra, French: Levres

Requirements: Soft, supple, luscious and movable.

Services include: opening for food intake, kissing and other acts of intimacy, erogenous sensory organ, articulate for speech.

Location: Visible part of the mouth, found on the face.

Co-workers: Digestive system, Reproductive system!

Description: The lower lip is generally larger than the upper lip, and with only three to five layers of skin they are very thin compared to typical face skin. Since the lips have a low amount of melanocytes which give the skin its dark appearance, this allows for blood vessels to appear through the skin which leads to its red coloring.

Warning: Use of tobacco, excess sunlight, and lack of oral hygiene can lead to carcinoma more commonly known as cancer. Also viral infections such as herpes can cause painful blisters
